Central District Meeting

Yin and Yang: Balancing Eastern and Western Medicine for Modern Healthcare Professionals

1 CATEGORY 1 CONTACT HOUR

THURSDAY
April

25

6:00 PM (ET)

Speaker

Lindsay Snow, MD

Session Description

A brief history of both Eastern and Western medicine will lay a helpful framework for a more in-depth discussion of the strengths and weaknesses of each. Similar to yin and yang, the best approach may be a healthy balance of the two. Practical, actionable tips will be offered for clinicians interested in incorporating such principles and techniques into their current practice, and a foundation of resources will be established for those interested in investigating this model further.
